

Dear Friends,

In this letter, we have outlined a plan that will meet the needs of our church and its growing ministries. A plan that will require the participation of every member. A plan that depends on each of us seeking and responding to God's will in our lives. Our plan: Opening Doors. It is a campaign and a ministry that affords all of us the opportunity to serve the Lord and to respond to His blessings.

Indeed, God has blessed each of us, but in different ways. We recognize that every member cannot - and should not - participate in the same way and give the same dollar amount. Our motto, "Not equal gifts, but equal sacrifice," embodies the teaching of proportionate giving. It is our prayer that commitments will be made that reflect the individual blessings of God and exemplify genuine sacrifice.

The Opening Doors campaign is too large for any one of us. It is too large for all of us to put together. No campaign, however, is too big for God. Our challenge is for each of us, through prayer, to understand God's will for our lives. I ask that you begin praying right now: "Lord, what do you want to do through me to accomplish Your will?" Once we have come to know God's plan for our participation, our challenge will be to do God's will with faith and dedication that is pleasing to Him.

We are honored and grateful by the way God has blessed our church. We can truly say that, in our church and in our lives, "God is with us!" And we are even more excited about the great things He plans to do in the years to come.

Yours in Christ,

Rev. Chris Weichman

“Not equal gifts but equal sacrifice.”

WHY “OPENING DOORS”?

“Behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it.” ~ Revelation 3:8

We’ve talked quite a bit about the changes to our church facilities over the past few weeks, and most of those have focused on the physical changes to the building.

But there’s much more to it.

Throughout the nearly two-year process of planning this project, the committees involved have constantly come back to the same simple question: “How does this help us bring more people to the Lord?” Every discussion revolved around this thought.

The concept of Opening Doors goes far beyond the brick and mortar changes to Clen-Moore. While these changes will provide better accessibility and updated facilities, it’s the opportunities that we create through those improvements that are our focus.

We are Opening Doors to our community. To new possibilities for our missions and ministries. To people who might not otherwise be able to experience the fellowship of worship.

This is an exciting time in our church history. We’re Opening Doors to the future of Clen-Moore, to our community, and to all that is possible in the Holy Spirit.
